ARON

aronheroes.com

Art is not only meant to be looked at, it must be experienced and shared. Art must meld with everyday life and turn life into something more interesting than art itself. Aron worked as a painter building a new constellation of symbols and colours.

Room Package

installation on tour, now!

Pictorial creativity needs a space to hold ideas and “residents” materials. The boxes “Room Package” represent the rooms in which the artist has painted his works during the last years. Each box can be virtually accessed by scanning a specific QR Code.

Images and portions of cubic worlds are linked by creative strings connecting all the rooms. A wide-screen projects 100 stop-motion photos of live painting projects. The last connection is the present moment: the live performance of the artist during the exhibition.
